Board of Appeals Case

SONS OF ITALY TO BE HEARD AGAIN

The most popular event for the night of July 28th., in Wilmington, may well be a hearing before the Board of Appeals.

The board, this week, consented to a second hearing of the controversial case for land on Salem Street, where the Sons of Italy propose to build a clubhouse.

And the Appeal Board, instead of holding the hearing in the Town Hall Annex, will hold it in the Town Hall, because of the crowd expected.

Last year the Board of Appeals ruled that the Sons of Italy may build a clubhouse on land which it owns, near the Wilmington Tewksbury line, after a hearing in which there were protests from neighbors. The case immediately became controversial, and Attorney Fred Corum was engaged to dispute the case in court.

Last April Justice Alan J. Diamond of the Superior Court ruled that the Wilmington Board of Appeals had not complied with the statutes, when it made its decision, and a month later he made a further ruling that the Board of Appeals, could, in its wisdom, have another hearing, if it so wished.

The twelve acres of land owned by the Sons of Italy is zoned for residential purposes. It extends back some distance from Salem Street, almost to the end of Marjorie Road, which is entered from Main Street.

Gerard Delaney was prominent in Sons of Italy Appeals Case

GERARD DELANEY: As he appeared in September 1969, while discussing the Sons of Italy case.

Gerard Delaney of 21 Salem Street passed away, at his home, on Sunday, July 5th. He was an electrical technician by trade.

Mr. Delaney acquired some prominence last summer when he spearheaded the opposition to the proposal by the Sons of Italy to build their lodge on Salem Street. The proposed lodge would have been on land which abutted his home.

He is survived by his wife, Claire E. (Reidy) Delaney, a son, Stephen, and a sister, Mrs. Eileen Hodges, of California.

Funeral services are to be held at eight am today, from the O'Brien

Funeral Home, 2 Benson Road at Summer Street, in Somerville, and a Mass will be offered at nine am at St Catherine's Church.

Burial is to be in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Zip Earned his Dog Biscuit

Zip, one of Wilmington's two police dogs, earned his dog biscuit Monday night, and two Marlboro youths are being held in $1000 bail each, on charges of attempted break and entry, in Wilmington Square.

They were in back of the drug store block, trying to get into the drug store but they took out the wrong window, that of the Wilmington Pet Shop. Mrs. Giles, of the Pet Shop, who heard the noise, called the police.

NEW CARS FOR THE DRIVER EDUCATION CLASS: Of Wilmington High School were presented to the teachers, Tuesday morning, by Fred F. Cain, of the Cain Plymouth-Chrysler Agency. The presentation is shown being made by Mr. Cain to Roger Breakey and Malcolm Jones (right).

With the addition of these two cars the Wilmington Driver Education Class will now have three cars for high school students to use while learning to drive.

Jerry Houghton named Business Manager of Wilmington Schools

The School Committee of Wilmington, meeting in executive session last Thursday evening, named a Business Manager for the Wilmington Schools, and two intermediate and two elementary Assistant Principals.

Named Business Manager of the Wilmington Public Schools was Jerry Houghton, a resident of Middleboro.

Mr. Houghton has had several years experience as the Business Manager of the Middleboro Schools. He earned his B.S. from Bryant College, and is presently working toward a M.A. at Suffolk University.

The position of Business Manager is new to the Wilmington school system. The duties include financing, purchasing of supplies and equipment, trans- and the internal auditing of the school system.

James J. Gilligan, High School baseball coach, was named Assistant Principal of the West Intermediate School. James F. Jordan was named the Assistant Principal of the North Intermediate School, and John Carr was named to the same position at the new Shawsheen School, while Joseph Connelly was appointed Assistant Principal of the Woburn Street School. All are at present employed in the Wilmington Schools.

The position of Principal of the Glen Road School has been reposted. Walter Pierce, Superintendent of Schools, told the Town Crier that the reason is to obtain a wider selection of applicants, so as to get the best possible candidates.

Those who have applied before have been given the opportunity to reapply. The reposting of the position was effective July 6, and the closing date is August 14.

Six Year Old injured while riding Bike

Shawn Junge, a six year old ward of Mr and Mrs John E. Eliot of 102 Lake Street was critically injured, Monday afternoon, at the intersection of Lake and South Streets.

Shawn sustained multiple injuries and is said to be in serious condition at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn, where he was taken in the Fire Department Ambulance.

According to witnesses Gregg Coolidge of 117 Lake Street and Michael Fioretti of Grace Drive, the boy was apparently unaware of the truck, which was coming out of South St. at a low rate of speed. The driver of the truck was unable to stop in time, and the boy was said to have been dragged 10 feet. Mrs. Jean Rowen of 2 South Street, first to be at the scene of the accident, told the driver to back up, to free the boy.

The truck was owned by the Jackson Brothers of Wilmington, and the driver was William Balkus of Reading

Asa's Old Blacksmith Shop

One might presume that Asa Sheldon was a supporter of Fremont, because of the horse's name - but perhaps he bought the horse from someone else who had so named him.

Back in the 1830's there was talk of cutting down one of the three hills of Boston, and filling a large marshland of the Charles River, a place known as Back Bay.

The hill was Pemberton Hill, and Asa Sheldon got the contract to cut it down. Boston contractors, who used horses to draw their carts, could not meet the price that Asa offered - and scoffed at his proposed use of oxen to draw the carts. The oxen, they said, could not work on the pavements of Boston streets - they were all right in the country, but for the city - no.

But Asa used oxen. He had twenty five span (pairs) at one time, and he shod those oxen so they could work on the paved streets of Boston.

Asa cut down Pemberton Hill, eight acres of land, for a minimum depth of fourteen feet. He tells about it in his book, and the land that he took off Pemberton Hill is called Back Bay, today.

He had to have a blacksmith shop, to keep those oxen shod, and to keep the wagons and carts in good running condition, so he built one, just about where Pemberton Square is, in Boston, today.

He hired two blacksmiths, to do the work, and one of them was named John W. Perry, a man from Charlestown.

When the work of cutting down Pemberton Hill was successfully completed, Asa hitched up some of his oxen to the blacksmith shop, and put some wheels under it. Then he brought his blacksmith shop home, and set it up for business.

John W. Perry came along, and was the blacksmith. His son, John S. Perry took over after his father.

The Perry family lived in the old farmhouse next door - the place where

HOUSE No. 5013

By Mr. Cain of Wilmington, petition of John F. Dever, Jr., and others (county commissioners of Middlesex County), Fred F. Cain and George T. Volpe Signs $1,025,000 Courthouse Bill

Action Came This Morning, One Day Before Deadline, Work Can Actually Start Now

NOON BULLETIN

Governor John A. Volpe signed the Woburn Courthouse Bill at 11:15 a. m. today, finally enacting into law the $1,025,000 necessary to complete the construction of the new building on the old Woburn depot lot, removing present buildings, furnishing and equipping the structure, landscaping and making available parking lots. This means that construction can start tomorrow. The signing of the Bill against a deadline dated tomorrow, was announced by Rep. Fred F. Cain, of Wilmington, who was on hand at the opening of the session this morning to urge the summary action.

The Woburn Courthouse appropriation bill which embraces a $125,000 supplementary addition to the $900,000 original capital outlay cost is due to be signed by Governor John A. Volpe today. Rep. Fred F. Cain, Democrat of Wilmington, who represents Wards 6 and 7 of Woburn "chased" the bill this morning and reported that the bill was on top of the day's agenda in the Governor's office and an informational member of the Governor's secretariat informed him that the bill would be signed by His Excellency this morning. The actual executive action will be known this afternoon.

The bill went right down to the deadline of progress of enactment, as tomorrow the award for construction must be made on the sealed proposals of October 5th. If the funds are not available tomorrow, the specific performance will again come to dead-end street, with the necessity of calling for new bids on the funds made available. There is already $900,000 appropriated and available but the bids revealed that the sum was insufficient to complete all phases of construction and furnishing of the building.

The function of calling for bid, and directing construction belongs to the Middlesex County Commissioners all of whom are anxious to get the Woburn building program off the ground. The Governor's signature will make the additional and necessary $125,000, available and before the ink is dry, Chairman of the County Commission John J. Dever will make immediate arrangements for ground breaking on the basis of the figures already provided in the October 5th competitive bidding.

By Representative Fred F. Cain

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington or call 657-7141, and after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Sorry bout last week, Folks...This Chick's life has been one confusion for a while now and it doesn't seem to get much better...Aunt Florence died and thank you for all of your concern and cards...You are certainly great with sympathy and concern...but just as the funeral was about to convene...this Gal got the call that No. 2 daughter had to be in the MGH for tests and surgery so we scurried some and got her in there, thanks to No. 1 daughter picking up the slack...and the operation took place yesterday morning...So, pahdon us for not being triplets but we had to let you down last week. However, we'll try not to do it again now, ok0

Cards this week to Flo Merrigan of Oakdale Road, at home recovering from a cataract operation, and do we miss you in the Square Flo... Get well and hurry back, but do what the docs said first...and then No 2 daughter who is confined to the White Building Floor 8 at the Mass General. She is Sharon Clark, and will welcome your cards, in the case that this one could be an extended stay...this is the seventh time out for her in surgery...and we must say that we are proud of that young lady and the grit that she shows....Thanks!

We've been having fun this week watching the folks go up to Poole's door and try to get in and the expressions that come over their faces. That trusty Baker is on vacation as always the first of July, but judging from expressions, people just don't believe it - and we discovered today that the North Wilmington baker has picked the same week for vacation. There yago, Gals - great week for cake mixes!

Another thing we saw in the Square this morning was a man from Tel and Tel washing the windows the pay stations...we just couldn't believe it. Congratulations whoever is responsible in Tel and Tel for that one. We tried to enlist him for the hut, but no such luck...guess the lads will have to do it...but they don't get them half as clean.

At a Teen Conference at Asbury Grove last week were Les and Tom Webber; Ann and Bill Morelli; Sharon Fullerton; Lisa DuPree; Meryl Clark (commonly called Bunch and being No 3 daughter); Debbie Kitchen; Nancy White; Bet Higley; and Linda Kyle... and they were invited back to paint and fix-up, the last weekend in August... if you please, and by the tears and 'campsickness' they have showed on return, would say that a great time was had by all...have felt that way many a time meself, so my heart was with them.

DID YOU KNOW THAT...Don Pembroke made the Daean's List at Union College...Karen Gamlin and Sue Miller returned from Happy T Ranch at Stinson Lake in New Hampshire... that No 5 whoops No 6 Son...KT is enjoying a month at Camp Waldron in New Hampshire and his mother certainly is jealous...that Mrs Giles of Wilmington Pet Pouri gave this Gal her own Crucifix for Sharon and it certainly was appreciated along with all of the prayers and concern... and that thirty minutes is awfully short and awfully scarce these days GB...that Paul MacMelville was in this week and is now headed for Nam. He looked great and was of good courage... He is now S/Sgt Paul MacMelville, 12 CMBT SPT. 6P, APO San Francisco 96368...and that his lovely wife and daughter will be spending part of the time at Michigan and part with Marge and Art, Paul's mother and father on Grove Avenue.

A serious note for a few minutes From Sister Loyola, the Administrator of St John's Hospital came a letter this day saying that St J's now has a health program for Drug dependent persons under the direction of coordinator, Mrs Joan Dunlevy RN, who has had a lot of experience in this field. You may contact St J's by phone 458-1411 or write to Mrs Dunlevy at St John's Hospital 14 Bartlett Street in Lowell...and God Bless those Folk that we now have something beside a 'talk' program...that is an 'action' program for the kids...that phone number kids is 458-1411...and we'll try to find out more about it... cause we hear via the grapevine there may be real problems with the stuff this summer.

Thank you, Mrs. Park for your inspiring letter...I hope I can do the job expected of me by all the folks on the S. C. I'll do my best anyway...Hope it is right for all

And from the Vacationers this week: Postcard from George and Fran Gray from Hyannis: 'Hi Nancy S of I going beautifully. Have been going from one meeting to another so that I haven't seen all of the Sheraton, but we saw Mike Douglas Show last night, and it was fabulous. Scuse the spelling...it's too early in the morning...and we never did find out whether Fran was just tied up with meetings all the time, but she got to see the Kennedy compound, we do know that...and we asked George what he did while Fran was at all of those meetings...and he said...What do you think...whew...watched the bikinis... and we do believe at the Sheraton that there are three swimming pools besides the Beach...so we'll just bet that he was busy!)

And from Lena and Dan Brogna, our old friends, from Laconia...Greetings from N. H. We are here for three weeks on vacation...and they are a good three weeks...Have a good time there Brognas!

We found a Thought for Today from the Martha's Vineyard paper this week which we thought might be something for a lot of us to think on: It is credited to La Rochefoucauld...and we haven't a ghost of a notion who he was, but his thoughts hit home in these days of apathy: 'Those who spend too much time on trifling things generally incapable of great ones...' Wow, how about that one0

Well, provided we can keep everything. Status Quo at the Hut for the next couple of weeks, we'll see you next week...Then the following week the Kid Sister I haven't seen for five years is coming from Grand Rapids for a visit, so I may never make the scene, BUT...

Love ya!

SPORTS ROUNDUP

ALL-STARS WIN A PAIR

Before a fine turnout of over 500 fans the Division I all-stars downed the California Cuties, 7-5, Friday night, in a Wilmington Regional Hospital benefit softball game.

Winning hurler Tom Courtney and first baseman Joe Beaton hit homers to spark the all-stars. Courtney blasted a three-run shot to left in the first inning, and Beaton unloaded a two run circuit clout in the fourth.

A week ago tonight the all-stars edged Burlington 4-3, in a game played for the Jimmy Fund at Marvin Field in Burlington. Right-hander Tom Stack pitched a strong seven hitter to gain the win.

The Wilmington nine trailed 2-1 entering the seventh inning, and added a pair of hits and an error to tie the game, with Pete Emery delivering the clutch hit.

Singles by John Rose, Jim Tildesley, and Joe Beaton produced two runs in the top of the ninth to provide the margin of victory as the Burlington team scored an unearned run in their half of the final.

TOWN LEAGUE

NAPA moved into first place in the tight Division II race this past week with a pair of wins. Bill Rugg's two homers, his eighth and ninth of the season, led NAPA to an easy 11-2 romp over Smithcraft on July 2, as Don Sleeper won his fifth game of the year.

The divisional leaders outslugged Diamond Crystal, 9-8, on Monday night to take over undisputed possession of the top spot. The highlight of this game were the home runs hit by Bill Rugg, Brian Dunleavy and Ron Gomes, all coming in the third inning.

In other league games played, Smithcraft stopped Rocco's 7-6, and the K of C trounced the Sons of Italy 9-6, as Charlie Weyman drove in three runs with a pair of hits.

The Miceli Club continued on its winning ways Sunday nite as they drubbed Bedell's 8-4, in the feature game of this week's tripleheader in Division I.

In the other two games Sweetheart Plastic got back in the win column, dropping the slumping Bemis nine, 5-4, while DeLoury bombed Compugraphic, 12-0.

The games scheduled for Tuesday were postponed until a later date.

Barry Foster, a 13 year old southpaw, gained his second seasonal win Monday night with a brilliant 3 hit shut-out as the Colts (3-9) handed the Mavericks (2-11) their sixth loss in succession.

In other action the Colts dropped a pair of games, 7-3 to the Reading Y's Men and 2-1 to the Reading Astros. The Wildcats (4-6) edged the Stoneham Falcons last Friday nite, 32 toham stay in the playoff contention, while the slumping Mavericks lost to the Falcons, 4-3 and to the Astros, 9-3.

Paul Olson of the Colts ignited a seventh inning rally with a one-out single as the East edged the West, 2-1 last Sunday in the annual All-Star game in Stoneham.

Greater Lowell League

Southpaw Bill Gustus blazed a brilliant four-hitter as Wilmington shut-out Tewksbury, 9-0 on July first to highlight the team's play, recently.

Coach Dick Scanlon's nine split two other league encounters and now sport a 5-4 seasonal record, entering last night's game with Hanscom.

Gustus mowed down Tewksbury on four hits and whiffed 11. Billy also contributed a two-run single. Second baseman Buddy Simmons cracked a bases loaded triple to aid the cause.

Last Thursday night the boys were leading Billerica 5-0 entering the last inning and Rick Gearty was working on a three-hit shut-out until the roof fell in. Rick gave up a walk and three consecutive hits, good for three runs, and left the game in favor of Gustus.

Billy walked the first man to face him to load the bases, and then proceeded to strike out the next two Billerica batters. But the next hitter then slammed a triple to center field to knot the score at 5-5. With two strikes on the ensuing batter, Gustus made the next pitch too good, and the hitter rapped into left field for a game winning single.

Monday night the boys traveled to Wakefield for a non-league game and again fell to late inning rally by the opposition, to lose 7-2.

The recreation sponsored team then bounced back on Tuesday evening as they edged first-place Burlington, 5-4, behind the gutsy pitching of Billy Gustus (4-2). Third baseman Tom Beaton and Gustus rapped out two hits apiece to pace the team.

The next two games will take place on Monday and Wednesday of next week. The team travels to Lowell on the 13th and returns to H.S. Field to play Tewksbury on the 15th.

Girl's Softball

The girls lost to Avco last Friday eve, 12-2, and will resume their intramural program tomorrow evening at the Town Park at 6:30 pm.

house and 70 acres of land, when the Perry estate was sold, back about 1903, for $700. The 70 acres is now Avco. In recent years the home, which dated back to perhaps 1697, became the victim of the arsonist's torch.

John S. Perry, the second of the two blacksmiths to bear the Perry name, lived in the big house on Church St., near Mill Brook, which is now the home of the Fortunata family. He used the trolley cars to go to work, trolleys which came from Woburn through Wilmington Square, and had a route down Church Street and Wildwood Street to Perry's Corner, and return.

That trolley car line was constructed just before the Spanish American War, and among the incidents of the construction was the cutting down of Bear Oak, on Wildwood Street, about 45 feet from Maple Meadow Brook. Herbert C. Barrows was one of those who cut down that venerable tree, to make way for the trolley line.

John would take the trolley to work, go home (at least sometimes) for lunch, and return to work again on the trolley, and then, when the day's work was completed, again board the trolley to go home for his night's rest.

There were times when business was so heavy that he went home on the last trolley, - about 10:30 pm, and this sometimes day after day.

Horses, of course, horses to be shod, and to have their winter spikes, were the reason. There were, nearly always, half a dozen horses tied up to the rail fence that ran along Woburn Street, from the Blacksmith Shop to what recent residents called the Barrows home, and sometimes the wait would be for three hours, until the horse could get his new shoes.

Just to be certain, John would go out, or send his helper, to remove one of the shoes of each of the waiting horses. In that way he knew that the customers could not leave until the horse had had his newly fitted shoes.

Winter time always meant winter shoes for the horses - they were not so called, though. It was better described as 'spikes' which were added to the shoes, so that the horse could have sure footing on the icy roads.

John S. Perry was always a busy man when the first winter ice made its appearance.

But to imply that it was all work and no play at the Perry Blacksmith Shop

THE FIRST COMMITTEE MEETING: Was last Thursday evening, when the Conservation Commission moved in. The men had to move chairs and tables into the class room, before the meeting began.

Arthur Bureau, chairman, is at extreme left, and clockwise around the table are: Mrs Ursula Leahy; Robert Gamelin; Nancy Durette (visitor), Alice Papaliolios (visitor); Jne Curley, Frank Colombo, Dave Townley, and Frank Ottatti. The clerk, Mrs Norma O'Connors, is at the desk which is beyond the meeting table.

Alcoholism is a deep problem and it is far more important in marital conflict than published figures indicate.

For decades, the accepted treatments, medical and psychiatric, were not very successful.

The organization of Alcoholics Anonymous constituted a breakthrough, followed by a number of new medical developments and the discovery that a nutritional defect is often at the bottom of the whole miserable business.

All of the newly developed drugs are available at the SILVER LAKE PHARMACY, 52 Main Street, Tel. 658-4617. Open 9-10 EVERY day. Whitman and Candy Cupboard Candies. Greeting Cards for all occasions. Cosmetics, including Clairol.

THE PORTRAIT OF MILDRED ROGERS: Which hung for 27 years in the school bearing her name, is being transferred to the Glen Road School where it will be on exhibition in September.

EXIT THE MILDRED ROGERS SCHOOL

The Mildred H Rogers School on Grove Avenue is no more. The building still stands, but no more will there be children sitting in obedient rows, in the classrooms.

It is now the office of the Wilmington Planning Board, and of the Wilmington Conservation Commission, but not, as was planned, of the Welfare Department. That department is to locate elsewhere in Wilmington.

Thus once more change comes to the little field and the buildings thereon, located on the west side of Silver Lake.

Seventy years ago the Boston Ice Company had ice houses on this field, with a railroad track connecting to the Boston & Maine. Forty-five years ago an out-door dance floor was the focal point for young people summering at the lake. Thirty five years ago, in the depths of the depression, a temporary structure was erected to house the primary pupils in the Silver Lake area.

This was known as the Silver Lake Portable School. It later was converted into a bath house, and eventually was torn down. A permanent school was erected about 1935 and for some years the two schools functioned as the Silver Lake School.

During most of this time, Miss Mildred Rogers of Lowell served, first as a teacher and later as a principal of the school. Her service was terminated by her death in the Cocoanut Grove holocaust in Boston, in November, 1942.

In that same fire four Wilmington brothers perished: Henry, Wilfred, James and John Fitzgerald, ranging in age from 29 to 40 years. All, including Miss Rogers, were part of a party, composed of B&MRR employees attending a Boston College football victory party.

Henry, who was home on leave from the Armed Services, was the immediate cause of the celebration for the Fitzgerald group.

What kind of person was Mildred Rogers? To quote from the Report of the Superintendent of Schools (Stephen G. Bean) in the annual Town Report of 1942:

"I regret sincerely my inability to express adequately the sentiments of everybody connected with the Wilmington Schools at the great personal loss felt in the tragic removal from us of Miss Rogers. She had been one of us so long, and was of such a friendly, pleasing personality, that all of us who knew her at all feel the loss more keenly than I can say.

She came to Wilmington directly

SIMARD - BESWICK
BETROTHAL

Mr and Mrs George O Simard of 32 Aldrich Road in Wilmington have announced the engagement of their daughter, Christine Lee, to Gregory Reed Beswick, the son of Mr and Mrs George E. Beswick of Flat Rock Road, Lake George, New York.

Miss Simard is a graduate of the Wilmington High School, Class of 1969, and is a student at Syracuse University.

Mr. Beswick is a 1965 graduate of Lake George Central School, and has completed four years with the United States Navy.

A November Wedding is planned.

from Normal School in Lowell and spent all of her teaching days in the same building at Silver Lake. For the greater part of the time she was the principal of the building and later was the principal in charge of the two buildings when the new building was built. She was highly efficient in her official capacity, showing a great capacity for cooperation with both both officials and parents. Her standing in the community in which she taught was enviable. The place that she held in the esteem of those children whom she taught was remarkable. I personally feel keenly the loss of a good friend and faithful colleague."

Rogers School in the fall of 1943.

With no disrespect to the memory of the beloved Miss Rogers, would this not be an appropriate time to rename the building "The Fitzgerald Brothers Building"?

All respected sons of a widowed mother, Mary, they were raised in the Fitzgerald homestead, still standing on the west side of the lake.

"Fitz Tefface" took its name from the family, and Fitzgerald remains in the memory of all their fellow-townsmen who still remember with horror, the roll call of the victims of the Coconut Grove fire.

Now that the building will no longer function as a school, let the town recall the tragic end of four fine young citizens by a formal change of designation.

John Fitzgerald of Wilmington Builders Retires

JOHN FITZGERALD AND BOSSES: John Fitzgerald of Wilmington Builders Supply, and friends in the company, on his last day as the manager of the company.

At left is Miss Gunvor Dahlin, secretary, and at right is Mrs. U.M. Carlton, one of the co-owners. Behind John is Bill LaVigne, his assistant, who now becomes the Manager.

He came to Wilmington, to work in the Wilmington Builders Supply Co. on Main Street, on July 5, 1933.

John has seen a lot of action since that date.

He and the late Harold C. Simes were the co-managers of the company, and they had a small building, a Model-A truck and another of which John Fitzgerald is unable to remember the kind.

Board were selling then for $17 a thousand feet. Today they sell for $130 a thousand. Everything has increased in price.

But, says John, so has the service. It is a part of the ever-lasting growth of business, he mused.

There were two employees then, and there are eight now. There have been important changes.

Not the least of the changes, of which John is justly proud, are the two new buildings, one being the new office building on Main Street, and the other the new and spacious warehouse, on land that was purchased about ten years ago from the Boston & Maine Railroad.

The Policy of Wilmington Builders has always been that 'the customer is always right' said John, Tuesday afternoon as he reminisced over the past years - 'and it is a policy that has always paid off' - 'we have had many friends, as a result!'

John Fitzgerald has not only been a salesman and manager during his years with Wilmington Builders, for he has also been performing his civic duties, in many ways. He has been a member of the Wilmington chamber of Commerce, and a Director. He has been a member of Rotary for the past 20 years, and plans to continue, for a while, at least.

He has participated in the activities, for instance, which has built up an old cranberry bog into Rotary Park - one which changed a mosquito breeding swamp into a place that is beautiful to see - and which provides, among other things, a place for boys to play baseball.

Back in Somerville, where he lives, he has also played in part in civic duties. He was on the school committee there for six years, and was the chairman for one year.

And, even though he has retired, he will still spend a lot of time in Wilmington - he just has too many friends that he still wants to keep as friends.

SWIMMING POOL CARE

by

Bob Le Favour

A few pool owners complain of a condition which I call the Pool Color hairy-scary syndrome.

The elimination of these problems is often as easy to accomplish as the treatment of the "green horrors" which we discussed last week. Colored water is generally caused by the presence of metals, such as iron, manganese or copper. You won't need a metalurgist, but the prompt elimination of these metals is important.

Iron causes a red or reddish brown tint; manganese produces a brownish black coloration; and copper makes for blue or blue-green water. Again the best prevention of these problems is the maintenance of a pH of 7.2-7.6 acidity-alkalinity reading and a chlorine reading of 0.6-1.0 ppm.

If you have adjusted these and the situation still persists, spread aluminum sulphate over the water's surface (2 oz./1000 gals.) The floc that forms must be allowed to settle. Remove the floc from sides and bottom by vacuuming. If your pool has a sand filter, add the alum at the pump section ahead of the filter.

Two ounces per square foot of filter surface will form a mat on the sand bed sufficient to trap the discoloring particles. After 24 hours your filter should be backflushed.

Watch next week for Absentee Maintenance.

Bob Le Favour is the owner and operator of Le Favour's Sea-craft Sporting Goods Shop, in Wilmington, and Le Favour's Sport Shop, in Haverhill. For the past several years he has been associated with the swimming pool industry.

Mr. Le Favour operates the Enchanted Mountain Ski Resort in Jackman, Maine, and for the past several years has served as an advisor to the National Sporting Goods Association.

If there are any questions in this column, please call him at 657-7521, or visit his swimming pool headquarters on Route 38 in Wilmington.

HOME OWNERS CORNER

By Roger

As everyone knows, children have a way of growing up, very quickly. By the time they're ready to go to school, most children have worn out or abandoned enough clothes, toys, and kiddie furniture to make their parents shudder.

Can you give a child anything that will last him more than a year or two? You bet! Build him a progressive study-play unit in three stages, by putting together 1x2s, plywood, a few pieces of hardware, and a sheet of hard-board. For the small child, build a simple bench and cover top with tempered, pre-finished hardwood. Then build four plywood boxes. Attach two through the bench, and put casters on two, so they move around.

As your child grows, a little rearranging and adding transforms this unit for school age activities. You can raise the bench to desk height; add a bulletin board; replace the hardwood top.

Building furniture, remodeling rooms, repairing household objects - all will be easier with supplies from A. B. SWEZEY, INC. 6-5 Main Street, 658-2051. Fine selections of unfinished furniture, dressers, bureaus, desks, deacon benches, hutches, bookcases, record cabinets, and gun cabinets. Hours: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Fridays.

HELPFUL HINT: Use table salt or cigarette or cigar ashes, dipped in oil, to diminish white spots or rings.

Letters

5 Chandler Road
Wilmington, Mass
July 5, 1970

Dear Larz:

I wish to make a correction in my letter to the editor in the July 2 edition of the Town Crier with reference to the date of the school committee meeting to which I was referring.

Will all those parents interested in a pre-school program for their children please come to the next school committee meeting, July 19, 1970, at 8:00 pm at the Roman House?

The July 2nd meeting was not open to the public. Although most of the public was not aware of this, they still did NOT come to the meeting.

I went and sat in the parking lot for an hour just in case any supporters arrived. I wanted to be sure to ask them to come back July sixteenth.

Instead, I sat in my car alone, writing this letter. Not one interested parent had arrived.

I do want to thank all the people who did call me to give their support, thinking they had missed the school committee meeting. One woman who called said she agreed with my letter and hoped I would keep up my fight for pre-school education. When I asked her to come to the school committee meeting of July 16th she said she would, if she could get a baby sitter.

I wonder how many parents will use that as their excuse for not going to the meeting, or maybe some parents will be able to come up with a more original one!

No wonder this town has gone so long without a pre-school program of any kind and we are not going to have a kindergarten till 1973, when it is mandatory. Where is the support, now, for such a program? Where is the 'silent majority'?

As it turned out, no one has missed the school committee meeting yet. If you really want to give your support for a pre-school program, don't just call me, meet me at the Roman House (which by the way is the building next to the high school, in case you are located), July 16, at 8 pm., and let's show the school committee we mean business.

Mrs. Carol Cooke

Dear Larz:

I read with dismay of the Tree Department's plans to "fog spray" for mosquitoes and oak skeletonizers through the rest of the summer.

The assumption is that because Malathion is a low toxic pesticide it is therefore "safe" is both complacent and false. There is no such thing as a safe pesticide.

Malathion even in very small quantities is deadly to honey bees - essential for pollination. Along with the mosquitoes it also kills the dragon flies which feed on mosquito larva.

Tiny droplets of diesel oil on the feathers of small birds can work its way into their bodies and kill them. Wilmington's bird population has already dwindled alarmingly!

As for the skeletonizers, they are driven out of the trees by the thousands onto every blade of grass, leaf and pine needle in sight. We are told to destroy whatever they have fallen on. How? By burning? It is now against the law to burn leaves anywhere in the state.

If this irresponsible and dangerous spraying is not stopped soon so that the birds will return, I fear that Rachel Carson's "Silent Spring" may very well be here within the next couple of years.

Worriedly

The minor league winners were the Braves, with an 8-1 record.

Miceli Club sweeps Twin Bill

Wilmington's Miceli Club received a pair of two hitters from its pitching staff last Wednesday (July 1) night to sweep its weekly twinbill. Tom Courtney worked the 4-2 opening game over Gregory's of Reading, and Ernie Wilson fired a 3-0 shut out over Guy's Bakery of Medford in the finale.

Dan Gentile and Dick Ethier had two hits each to pace the seven hit attack in the opener while Joe Beaton had two of the three singles in the second game off Don MacLeod of the bakers.

Coach Tigh's team was 7-1, good enough for first place, entering last night's doubleheader in Wakefield.

Rainbow Trout

Robert Storer, of 13 Mystic Avenue caught a 1½ pound rainbow trout in the Hundred Acre Meadow, last Thursday just above the Route 93 bridge. He says it is a record catch for the line weight he was using.

ASA'S SHOP (From Page Seven)

noons when the farmers could not work in their fields. rainy winter afternoons more than rainy summer afternoons.

There was Carl Pettengill, Charley Sargent, Charlie Blaisdell, Herb Barrows, to name a few. Herb was the best domino player, according to all accounts - and dominoes are not the simple game that some people would be led to believe. With Herb Barrows it was really a game of skill - he could, almost at will - block up all the available openings for the other players.

There was whist too - not the bridge of today, but the old fashioned kind of whist where the last card was turned up, and would become trumps.

Of course there were always bets on the outcome. That was a big part of the game - not large bets, but bets just the same.

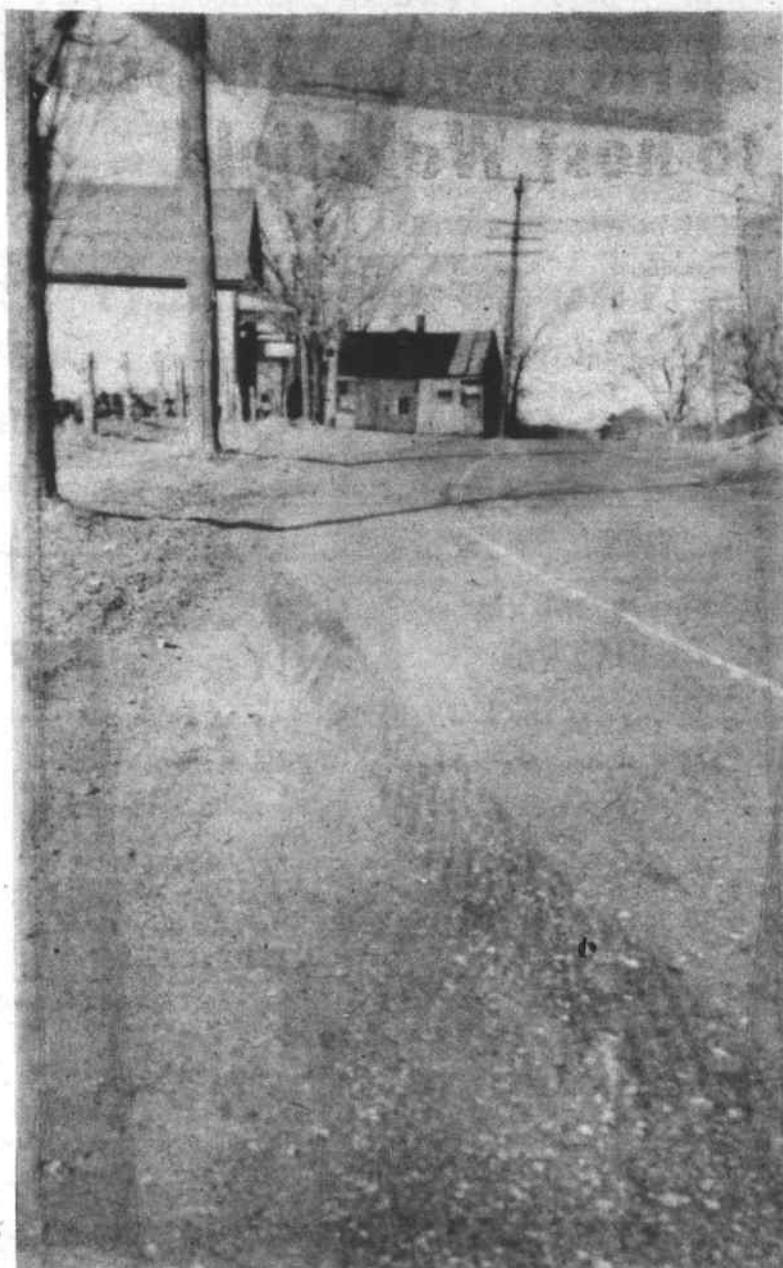

And, where there are horses, there too will be racing. Those farmers knew their horses, and they always had one or two set aside for the sole purpose of drawing the family buggy, or perhaps for racing. Herb Barrows was one who always had one of the better horses.

Herb and Charlie Blaisdell - both were very wiry and athletic, used to race from the corner of Main Street to the blacksmith shop, the length of Lowell Street, on almost any occasion.

In fact Herb raced many places. He used to take his favorite horses down to the 'Medford Speedway' now the site of many trucking firms, where the present route 93 ends, on many occasions, for sulky racing.

Down on the shores of Lake Quannawitt, too, was a race track where Herb would go for sulky racing. One race that he won there, the writer knows, was because he was more accurate in the spitting of tobacco juice than was his opponent.

(More in later editions)

LOWELL STREET: Evidently in the 1930's, after the Street Car Track had been torn up. Emma Murray's store is the first building, and beyond it the blacksmith shop, probably operated at that time by Morris Laffin.

THE FIRST TO ARRIVE: At the former Mildred H. Rogers School, last Thursday, for its first non-school town function, was of course the chairman of the committee. Standing in the doorway is Arthur Bureau of West Street, chairman of the Conservation Commission.

State Mutual can now give you a healthy rate reduction on disability income insurance.

We were the first to offer reduced life insurance rates to people who hadn't smoked a cigarette in at least a year. And now we're offering the same deal on new Disability Income insurance... simply because we feel non-cigarette smokers are better health insurance risks, too.

So if you haven't smoked a cigarette for at least a year — pipes and cigars are permissible — let us tell you how much you can save on new Disability Income insurance with State Mutual.

All three wore yellow and white gowns of chiffon and embroidered lace and carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

The best man was Gregory Kuder, brother of the bridegroom. The ushers were Steven Kuder, brother of the bridegroom and the Rev. John Dunnack.

The bride is a graduate of Wilmington High School, and attended the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Rev. Kuder is a graduate of Gordon College and is now attending the Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary.
